

Community Cup

Description:

Community Cup is a sports tournament and festival connecting people to make disciples that make disciples.

It is Catalytic. By that we mean:

- The sports event is not an end in itself but fuels a movement that carries on after the event.
- The ministry movement could be one of the following:
 - Disciple Making Movement (DMM)
 - Church Planting
- Incarnate Evangelism

Objectives:

Through the bridge of sport there is the opportunity to:

- Serve the needs in your community
- Understand your community
- Birth new community based sports leadership teams
- Ultimately this opens the doors for ministry like DMM but not exclusive to DMM

Target Audience:

Model A is designed for cities with an international/ethnic diverse population.

Model B is designed for cities with different community groups united by something in common (Universities, schools etc.)

How to Organize/Implement:

- i. Two models currently exist:
 - a. Model A is designed for cities with an international/ethnic diverse population.
 - b. Model B is designed for cities with different community groups united by something in common (schools, business, banks, etc.)
- ii. First select your mini-communities and identify their felt need
- iii. Then you can design your Community Cup
- iv. Engage an Organizing Committee to pray, plan and execute your tournament and follow-through ministry strategies
- v. Appoint a director of the tournament, of volunteers, of team recruitment and of follow-through
- vi. Remember the event should take up 20% of the team's resources (ex. Time and Money) and the follow-through should utilize 80% of the team's time and money.

The Ultimate Goal Strategies

- vii. Without the follow-through you only have an event.
- viii. With excellent DMM follow-through you have a movement.
